The Artist's Way resumes!

Connect with God the Creator and a like-minded community to rekindle your unique gifts and dreams as you travel further along your authentic journey

I invite you to join us on a creative journey of discovery and deepening your faith by working through The Artist's Way at Work in a supportive community. A group of 20 people at the Rondebosch United Church (Congregational and Presbyterian), where I have worshipped for the past 31 years, recently completed the course and found it to be a deeply spiritual experience of self-discovery and a renewal of energy for personal and societal transformation. I work with an amazing team of people to reduce violence and improve people's lives in the townships (www.vpuu.org.za), work that requires internal energizing from finding sources of hope, insight, creativity and strength. The Artist's Way and The Artist's Way at Work have been some of those rich resources for me and millions of others. What is God calling you to right now? Are your spiritual antennae primed and ready to discern? Are you using your gifts and talents as fully and effectively as you hope to? Are you wanting to discover some new insights about yourself and how to engage creatively with your life circumstances? If these are some of your issues and questions, then consider joining us on The Artist's Way at Work. (More details about the course on page two.)

Starting Thursday, 23 January 2020, the course will meet Thursdays from 6:30-8:30pm at Erin Hall, Rondebosch for 12 consecutive weeks, ending just before Easter. A 3-4 session trial is an option, without committing to all 12 weeks.

Course fees are R2,775 and include a copy of the book. If you purchase a Kindle version of the book the course fee is R2,400.

A 3 day intensive course will be held 21 & 28 February & 6 March at Pinelands North Primary School for R2,400 (or R2,025 if Kindle version is purchased).

Courses can be custom designed for your organisation
